

MORON CAUGHT AFTER SCARE OF TWO GIRLS

Stanley Dolato, ex-inmate of Fleebie-Minded Home, Taken
by Police After Alleged Attempted Attack

FIND "HUGGER" SUSPECT
ON PORCH AT HIS HOME

First Statement Declared to Reveal His Connection
With the Affair

ALLEGED to be one of the city's most notorious and prowlers, Stanley Dolato, 21, 1731 Winnebago street, is being held at Central Police station pending disposal of a case in which he is alleged to have attempted to attack
two girls in the neighborhood of Seventh and Perry streets Tuesday evening, according to a report at police headquarters Thursday morning.

Girls Scream and Run

The two girls, according to the story, were enroute from their respective homes to the C. H. Lawlison residence, 815 South Seventeenth street, where a girl scout party was being held, in the vicinity of Seventeenth and Perry streets. The girls were accosted by a young man. This action so frightened them that the three remaining blocks to the Lawlison residence, where a party was being held,
they fled. The girls were taken to the police station immediately. The girls stated that the man followed them for a distance.

After giving a description of the man to the police at the Lawlison residence, Stanley Dolato was identified by one of the members of the party as Jack the Hugger, from the description.

First Statement Held Incriminating

In their search for the moron, the police went to the Dolato residence
where they found Stanley seated on the front porch reading a newspaper.
On being asked to come out by one of the officers, Dolato's first statement was to the effect that he had not "hugged any girls," thereby disclosing
his connection with the affair, the police declared.

According to the report of the police,
Dolato has previously been an inmate of an institution for the feeble-minded
and was allowed to return home
some time since. Just what disposition was made of the case has not been ascertained.

Mrs. Lawlison complimented the police on their speedy work after being notified of the affair.

"They were here in five minutes after we phoned," she said.

Had Followed Others

While the identification of Dolato as
"Jack the Hugger" has not yet been made positive, the police declare the description given by the two girls fits him absolutely. The girls will be asked to look him over in an effort to make his identity definite. Residents of the neighborhood where the attack
occurred say that Dolato has frequently followed girls and several have been frightened by his actions in the past.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES DONE BY AUTO IS SETTLED FOR $85

Crosse against M. Christensen, Verona county farmer, for damages sustained when Christensen ran into Olson's auto on Morgan Coulee road, has been settled for $85, the amount asked by Olson. Christensen was arrested after the accident and fined $15.00 in police court by Judge Dunn
for driving an auto while intoxicated.
Later Olson got out a warrant of attachment against Christensen's auto
in Judge Dunn's justice court. Today
the court was notified of a settlement of the case.

LAUREL, WIS.—Robbers unsuccessfully attempted to loot the State Bank of Augusta at Augusta, Laurel county, Wednesday night
when an acetylene torch used by them started a fire between the outer and wires into the town were cut and only meager reports were obtainable here.

first forcing the policeman to walk away a block, threatening to shoot
him if he turned around.

SALOON BARS ARE DOOMED SOON AFTER MATHESON BILL BECOMES LAW SAYS OFFICER

One hundred saloon bars in La Crosse, relics of the days when something stronger than one-half of one per cent could be obtained for a nickel or a dime in unlimited quantities, will pass into history soon after the Matheson "dry" bill now on the last stage of its passage in the legislature, becomes a law.

Captain W. Stanley Smith, state prohibition commissioner, immediately upon the passage of the Matheson bill, will order the removal of all standing bars in Wisconsin according to word received from Madison. His edict will mean that La Crosse's 100 soft drink saloons will be stripped of their bars and cherished bar rails. Most of the bar rails are already gone, having been removed after the Volstead act went into effect. But the old-time bars are still in service in every soft drink establishment licensed by the common council under the so-called Class A permits.

Whether these places will dispense ice cream, ginger ale, cider, near-beer and other concoctions containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol over tables or from so-called back bars, after the Matheson act is enforced, is a problem to be decided by each proprietor.

The provision of the law reads: "No place in which non-intoxicating drinks or beverages containing alcohol in any degree are sold or dispensed for consumption upon the premises where sold, shall maintain a standing bar or counter."

"I intend to enforce every provision of the law," declared Capt. Smith.
"The provision for the removal of bars will be carried out as soon as possible."

Stricter regulation of soft drink parlors, by law, will be sought by the state prohibition chief. An amendment to the Matheson bill or a subsequent law requiring removal of all blinds, screens and booths from saloons and soft drink emporiums will be sought.

CHANGES IN SIX BADGER BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS PROPOSED BY COMMITTEE

JUDGE LINDSEY GIVES UP AFTER FIVE-YEAR FIGHT AGAINST FINE

DENVER, Col.—Ren B. Lindsey, judge of Denver's juvenile court, will end a five year controversy here Thursday when he pays a fine of $500 and costs assessed upon him following his conviction on charges of contempt of court. Judge Lindsey announced his decision to pay the fine and end the case. He was adjudged in contempt by Judge Perry of the district court in 1915. Judge Lindsey had refused to divulge what a 11-year-old juvenile ward had told him about the murder of the lad's father. The boy's mother was tried for the murder and acquitted. Judge Lindsey refused to obey the court's order, because he said, if he testified he would be "betraying the confidence of a child."

"I have no regrets," said Judge Lindsey today. "I believe the fight
we made was right. No court again will ask a juvenile court judge to betray what a child has told him."

ASSEMBLY REJECTS PLAN TO CHANGE PRIMARY SYSTEM

Votes Down Ingalls' Party Convention Bill by Vote of 51 to 29

MADISON, Wis.—Change in the system of direct primary elections in Wisconsin was frowned on by the assembly Thursday morning when the Ingalls party convention bill to the legislature along with suggested amendments. Vote on rejection of the judiciary committee substitute amendment was 47 to 32 and on rejection of the original bill unamended
51 to 29.

The administration had entered active opposition to the proposal, which would have built up rigid party lines
and would have prevented minority control of the primaries. If accepted, it would have resulted in a party convention with delegates from each of the 2200 precincts in the state,
who would select majority and minority candidates for the state offices
and a majority and minority platform.

Connerford of Superior, chief clerk in the office of the secretary of state.

LABOR COMMITTEE REPORTS ON BILLS BEFORE CONGRESS

Report Made Public by Labor Council Includes Record of Bills Affecting Labor

BILLS OPPOSED BY LABOR LISTED IN THE REPORT

Approve Borah Bill to Protect Constitutional Rights of People

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—A voluminous legislative report prepared by the legislative committee of the American Federation of Labor was being disseminated here Thursday by the federation's executive council.

This report, presented by President Gompers, contains a complete record of bills introduced in the last and the present congress, that affect the interests of organized labor.

Two new bills were also being considered by the council. They will be passed in congress in the interests of labor. One of these bills, already introduced by Senator Johnson, calls for a congressional investigation into conditions in the west Virginia mining communities. The other bill would legalize the right of representatives of labor unions to solicit members, despite any individual contract they might have with their employers.

Both bills are supported by the United Mine Workers of America
which will have the aid of the federation in advancing legislation in the various states making it possible for union organization work to be carried on, despite the individual contracts,
which were recently legalized by a United States supreme court decision.

Bills in the present congress opposed by labor include:

Senator Poinsett's anti-strike
bill.

The Graham session bill.

Representative Blanton's session
and anti-picketing bill.

Senator Prolinghousen's bill authorizing the appointment of a federal court commissioner.

The report approves Senator Borah's
bill designed to protect the constitutional rights of the citizens of the United States. This bill, it was stated, would also guarantee free speech and free assembly and would remedy conditions in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia communities where, it is alleged, such rights are denied.

TWO-YEAR TERM FOR MAN WHO JUMPED BAIL IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—George P.
Murphy, 25, formerly of Los Angeles, was sentenced to two years in the house of correction Thursday by Judge Packus in municipal court, after having forfeited a bond of $1,000
furnished by Milton A. Dodge, oil and motion picture stock swindler, now serving a five year sentence at the house of correction also.

Murphy was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses in passing two checks for $200 and $300
on Los Angeles, which were drawn on the Comco corporation. He had been a lieutenant of Dodge and aided in his stock swindling schemes
in Milwaukee and other cities.

CLARA SMITH DROPS CLAIM TO HAMON ESTATE

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—A settlement was effected Thursday by which Clara Smith Hamon relinquished all claim to the estate of Jake Hamon,

cently acquitted by an Oklahoma jury, it was announced by her attorney, J. B. Champion.

LAUNDRY LIZZY TAKES A PLUNGE IN MISSISSIPPI

Spring is here and "Lizzy"
was game for a plunge in the old Mississippi.

Here is the way it happened:
John Ford drives a Ford delivery for the La Crosse Steam Laundry company. He was in the act of delivering a package to the skipper of the "Ellen,"
government boat, in the harbor
here shortly after noon Thursday.

Parking the delivery car on the lower road in Riverside park, Ford proceeded with the laundry
package and arriving on the top deck of the steamer, looked around to see Lizzy headed for the drink.

Before the driver could come to the rescue the car was entirely submerged near the bow of the boat.

With the assistance of the
"captain and crew," Lizzy was recovered and after shaking her feathers was apparently no
worse for the experience.

Yes, they will do most anything but swim.

CHAMBER ANGRY AT FAILURE OF BRIAND TO SEIZE RUHR

FEAR BERLIN WON'T MAKE GOOD PLEDGE

Immediate Assault on Briand Ministry to be En- gaged in the Chamber

GERMANY GETS BUSY ON CARRYING OUT TERMS

Bavarian Cabinet Agrees to Disarm the Big Home Guard Army

PARIS.—That the French cabinet may follow the German Fehrenbach ministry into the disarmament of the allied demands in full, was a development of the German surrender
which seemed possible on Thursday.

The decision of the London conference last week, in which Germany was given more time to make and French occupation of the Ruhr delayed to the point at which resentment
in the chamber of deputies focussed.
Despite the complete acceptance of the allied ultimatum issued by the London conference there is a strong undercurrent in quarters hostile to the Briand cabinet that France should have taken the Westphalian industrial region as security for German fulfillment of the agreement. The small majority in favor of surrender in the German reichstag and the reported instability
of the Wirth cabinet in Germany which has undertaken to carry out the treaty terms is held by this sentiment to indicate that the question is not as satisfactorily settled as appears on the surface.

Officially Claim Satisfaction

The French government is extremely satisfied with Germany's acceptance of the ultimatum, thus avoiding military occupation of the Ruhr,"
said an official statement issued at the foreign office.

It was reiterated in official quarters
that the French forces on the Rhine
will be maintained at sufficient strength to occupy the Ruhr until it becomes materially evident that the Germans will carry out the terms of the ultimatum.

Plan to Attack Briand

The lobby of the chamber of deputies was unusually active Wednesday for the recess period. Many deputies gathered to exchange views regarding the prospective assault upon the cabinet of Premier Briand by the large element in the chamber which is dissatisfied with the decisions of the last London conference.

M. Tardieu, former French high commissioner in the United States who represents the Clemenceau forces and M. Fougere, one of the most eloquent of the new members, who represents the moderate portion of the chamber, will lead the attack on the Briand ministry.

M. Briand will defend the decision to give Germany time to reply to the allied ultimatum and stake the fate of his cabinet upon approval by the chamber of the London decisions. If the chamber pronounces against those decisions the cabinet will resign.

Crucial Test Due June 30

The crucial test in the new situation is regarded here as likely to come on June 30 with the expiration of the time limit for the complete disarmament of Germany.

If the allied conditions are not complied with by that date, it is declared in official circles, the Ruhr will be occupied, even if Germany pays the 1-000,000,000 gold marks within a month, as provided in the reparations commission's schedule.

Comment in Press

The Eclair advocated occupation of the Ruhr despite Germany's acceptance of the ultimatum, saying:
"Whatever Germany's last hour promises, we have the right and we should proceed to the occupation of the Ruhr in the interests of the peace of Europe."

On the other hand, the Petit Paris-
ien said:
"France has no desire to occupy the Ruhr. Nevertheless, in case of Germany's failure to meet her obligations,

TEXT OF GERMAN ACCEPTANCE

LONDON.—(By The Associated Press.)—Dr. Sthamer, the German minister, handed the German reply to the prime minister at 11 o'clock
Wednesday morning, and Mr. Lloyd George immediately telegraphed the news to all the governments concerned.

Germany's Acceptance

The text of the reply as delivered to the prime minister, began as follows:
"Mr. Prime Minister:
"In accordance with instructions just received, I am commanded by my government, in accordance with the decision of the reichstag and with reference to the resolutions of the allied powers of May 5, 1921, in the name of the new German government to declare the following:
"The German government is fully resolved, first, to carry out without reserve or condition its obligations as defined by the reparations commission.
"Second, to accept and carry out without reserve or condition the guarantees in respect of those obligations prescribed by the reparations commission.
"Third, to carry out without reserve
or delay the measures of military, naval, and aerial disarmament notified to the German government by the allied powers in their note of Jan. 20, 1921, those overdue to be completed
at once and the remainder by the prescribed date.
"Fourth, to carry out without reserve or delay the trial of war criminals and to execute the other unfulfilled portions of the treaty referred to in the first paragraph of the note of the allied governments of May 5.
"I ask the allied powers to take note immediately of this declaration."
"STHAMER."

WHAT GERMANY MUST DO

By accepting the allied ultimatum
Germany must:
Disarm at once all naval, air and
military forces;
Put war criminals on trial immediately, and
Begin the payment of $33,750-
000,000 indemnity within 25 days.
The first payment is to be 1,000,000-000 gold marks by June 1. Subsequent payments must be made at the rate of 2,000,000,000 gold marks annually. In addition, Germany must pay an export tax of 25 per cent or the equivalent. The German government must issue tax-free bonds secured by the resources of the whole nation.
These bonds will bear 5 per cent.

FAVORABLE VOTE ON IRISH RECOGNITION EXPECTED IN SENATE

Demonstration in Favor of Huber Resolution Held Before Assembly Committee

MAYOR OF IRISH CITY TELLS OF REPRISALS BY BRITISH

Claims Ireland Asks Only What
it Has a Right to Ask

MADISON, Wis.—Favorable recognition of the Irish republic by the president of the United States was urged before the meeting of the assembly state affairs committee Wednesday afternoon, in considering the Huber resolution urging recognition, which has already passed the senate.

Hundreds of people from all parts of the state journeyed to Madison for the occasion. They expressed themselves in support of the cause being made by the legislature to give support to the Irish cause.

Senator Huber in presenting his resolution to the committee declared that it was not intended as an unfriendly act toward England but was merely intended to bring before the president and congress the united expression of the people of Wisconsin for Irish independence.

The resolution declares that the legislature "voicing the sentiment of the people of the state of Wisconsin, urges and requests the president of the United States, by proclamation or in such other manner as may be proper, to formally recognize the Irish republic as a free and independent nation."

Frank Dempsey, lord mayor of Mal-low, a town in the county of Cork, Ireland, which was destroyed by the English troops during a reprisal, told the committee and audience of the conditions which surrounded this destruction. He said that he had come to this country on request of the committee of 100, which recently completed an investigation of Irish conditions.

It was his contention that Ireland in asking for recognition as a republic was merely asking what it has a right to ask as an independent nation.

The committee was told by John Martin of Green Bay that it was acting within its right in passing the Huber resolution, because of the tradition of this country to grant recognition to struggling republics. He said that the action was based on the policy followed by the United States since its infancy.

Mr. Grady declared that the Sinn Fein government was the only one functioning in Ireland at the present time. He made a plea for recognition on the ground that this country was interested because of its adherence to the policy of self-determination of small nations asserted by ex-President Wilson.

No open opposition was shown to the resolution at the hearing. It is expected that it will pass the lower house, the same as it did the senate, for political reasons.

NEW CULT IN TOKIO SEEKS WORLD POWER

Jap Capital Shocked at Revelation of Atrocities Committed by
New Order

TOKIO.—By The Associated Press.—Revelations of the work carried on by the "Omoto" cult, which began when the police raided the headquarters of the organization at Ayube, near here, astounded the people. Newspapers accuse leaders of the cult of aspiring to set up an "Omoto" dynasty, to which all Japanese would flock with the hope of attaining world dominion.

In the secret passage leading from the temple of the organization at Ayube to the residence of Watanabe Deguchi, leader of the society, the police declared they discovered a portrait of Deguchi wearing a costume resembling that usually seen on the image of Amaterasu, the sun goddess, the traditional grand ancestress of the Japanese imperial family. It is alleged that in the temple were found crypts in which were placed the bodies of those who were slain for betraying the secrets of the organization.

It is declared that "unspeakable crimes" were committed against women by members of the cult, who are said to have bordered on fanaticism in their zeal. Carloads of alleged sedition literature have been seized.

"It is said the followers of 'Omoto' numbered 300,000. An Osaka newspaper owned by Deguchi denies reports bombs were discovered in the temple and explains swords found there had been given to the temple. The newspaper declares followers of 'Omoto' have committed no crime."

SLEEP WALKER FALLS FROM WINDOW; WILL RECOVER SAYS DOCTOR

NEW YORK.—Stephen Barker, a lawyer living in Short Hills, N. J., early Wednesday walked in his sleep out of a thirteenth story window in his brother's apartment on Fifty-ninth street and fell eight stories to the roof of an adjacent building. Physicians said he had a fair chance for recovery although his skull was fractured and his legs were broken.

The Key-log Removed
PERHAPS the most conspicuous result that seems likely to follow the German surrender upon the reparations question is an accession of confidence and stability all over the world. Business everywhere breathes more freely with the knowledge that the key-log of the jam which has been backing up the normal currents of trade for years has been at last removed. The jam is not yet dissolved, but a real start has been made, and there is reason to hope that the situation from this point will progressively improve.

The terms upon which Germany has capitulated are severe. They have been drawn up largely on the basis of allied estimates of war damage, and the factor of Germany's ability to pay does not appear to have been considered. But this in fact may make little actual difference, for no matter what the terms Germany could not be made to pay more than a certain now unknown limit. If these demands to which she has subscribed go beyond that limit, they will not be paid in full. In the final analysis Germany will pay according to her ability.

The settlement, the nature of the terms aside, has two very optimistic aspects. One is that it forestalls efforts at the dismemberment and disorganization of the German economic entity, with all that would have meant to the world's production. The other is that in fixing the terms at the figures set the allies have practically pledged themselves to permit Germany to re-enter world trade as an exporting nation. In no other way can the great bill be paid, except through an excess of German production over consumption and the export of that excess. This in itself will do much to restore the lost balance of business all over the world. For Germany, despite many disreputable trade practices, was nevertheless an important cog in the machine of world trade before it was put out of gear by the catastrophe of 1914, and her general contribution to the distribution of civilization has been sadly missed.

Politically, economically and, one hopes, spiritually the world has taken a great stride toward recovery with the settlement of the reparations question.

A Good Proposal
THE city has reason to be heartily glad of the proposal which Mayor Bentley has brought forward for a thorough-going program of repair and rehabilitation of the streets. For several years, owing to scarcity of materials, men and money in about equal parts the paving on all but a few of the principal streets has been steadily deteriorating, until it has reached such a point that there is no comfortable driving inside the city limits. Every motorist, so bad have conditions become, heads for the country immediately upon starting for a pleasure drive even of the shortest, for the county roads are incomparably better than any considerable stretch to be found inside of the city limits. Adequate paving repair is possibly the most urgent immediate need of La Crosse.

Every dictate of common sense, also, supports the suggestion that the reclamation work should be a charge upon the city as a whole rather than upon the individual property owners lining the streets to be renewed. It is unfair to assess such expense against the property owner because it is in its essence merely maintenance work, and after having once paid for paying the taxpayer cannot with justice be held responsible for its upkeep. The automobiles that wear down and destroy its surface come from every section of the city and from the country adjacent, even from other states. As a citizen the property owner is glad to see such use of the streets, for the traffic spells prosperity for the city as a whole, but to place the burden of the wear and tear on his shoulders as an individual is to distribute the load disproportionately to the benefits. It is a matter for the city as a whole to handle, so that the load will, by and large, be borne by those best able to carry it and most benefited by the conditions which cause it.

In its broad essentials the reclamation program seems well-calculated to meet a crying need, and one feels certain that it will have the backing of a large majority of the city's residents.

A Great Newspaper
THIS month the Manchester Guardian will celebrate its 100th anniversary, and newspapers all over the world are saying nice things about it. Throughout the field of English journalism the Manchester Guardian is a landmark, and has been almost since its beginnings, because it is one of the great examples of journalistic liberalism. It is an English newspaper—thoroughly English—but with an indomitable courage and energy it has never failed to be more than English; it has always been fair. Whether the issue was foreign or domestic the Guardian has held up the gauge of justice to men and measures. It has lost many battles, but it has won many, too, and in every crisis of home or international politics it has strengthened the hands of moderation and opposed the gospel of force and imperialism. It has been as fair with its opponents as with its friends, and whatever its own opinion has never denied the other side a hearing. This is the ideal standard of journalistic ethics, all too often absent from even other great newspapers. Combined with this integrity are unimpeachable qualities of style and an enterprise which makes the Guardian's verdict a force not only in politics but in a dozen different fields as widely separated as sports and literature. So all over the world the press finds the anniversary of the Guardian an occasion for congratulation, proof that it has earned the admiration and respect of the critics that are, in any line, the most difficult—its own co-workers. There is no tribute more satisfying.

Chance and Science
THE goddess chance is associated usually with the gaming table. Luck and science ordinarily are not teammates, but, occasionally they work together.

The man who invented the automatic nailer which nails the sides and bottoms of soap boxes with a marvelous speed, perfected all the parts of his device save one alone with the aid of science. Science couldn't help take nails from a keg and assort them with their heads all up and their points down ready to feed to his hammers.

Luck solved his problem. The nails now are dumped helter-skelter into a box and the box is kept constantly jiggling. The nails, for no scientific reason whatever and simply following the lazy rules of chance, assort themselves and slide prettily down an incline—heads up and points down—ready for use.

Milady, the long strings of beads that make up the portions of your handbag, exclusive of the design, were strung by luck. It would take an endless amount of handwork to lift each bead separately and thread it on a needle. Instead the bead stringer pours a few thousand glass beads in a little bowl set on a wheel that spins rapidly. Then she holds her needle in the mess and for no good reason the beads run up the needle quick as rats into a hole.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
At last night's common council meeting a fight was made to remove the toll from the Mississippi wagon bridge but many aldermen were against a free bridge because it would take away from this city a large revenue in tolls every year. They took no account of the fact that business men of La Crosse and farmers of Houston county have proposed raising a fund sufficient to improve the La Crosse highway, thus saving this city that expense and serving as compensation to the local taxpayers for the removal of the tolls.

In order that students may get the practical as well as the theoretical knowledge of culinary affairs, Miss Cora Binzel, head of the domestic science department of the high school, has arranged a series of luncheons all the preparations for which are to be luncheons all the preparations for which are to be made by the students of that department. Two girls are to be put in charge of each luncheon and are to be allowed a certain sum with which to purchase the necessary food. Students will be allowed to invite their own guests.

At a meeting of La Crosse lodge No. 300, B. P. O. E. last night, members made plans for the erection of a handsome club home at Fifth and State streets. The building will be started right away and no doubt will be completed by fall.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY
At the meeting of the railroad committee of the common council tomorrow evening the petition of the La Crosse street railway company will be brought up. The petition asks for the extension of the company's line on Market street to the Green Bay tracks. The Wisconsin Telephone company is contemplating radical changes in its telephone system both in the telephone and in rates. At present the company is using the Bell telephone, to which a bell is attached for the purpose of calling central. The company will replace the Bell telephones with central energy telephones which only require the lifting of the receiver to notify the exchange that a call is desired. The company will raise its rates from one to two dollars a month when the new system is put in operation. Posts are being driven in the court house park. Each bench placed there this summer will be attached to a post to prevent it from being stolen.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY
The Wisconsin State Farmers' Alliance meeting for 1891 will be held in this city June 6. One matter of business to come up before the meeting is the establishment of a state paper which members feel is needed. Several cars of German emigrants passed through the city today over the Burlington road. They were bound for the Pacific coast states. The water in the Mississippi river is so high that rats can pass under the long span of the bridge and it is not necessary to swing the draw. All the old buildings that have been taken away from the property bought by E. R. Barron at Fifth and Main street, have been taken to the fair grounds.

CHAPTER XXV
Being a Brief Memoir by the Honorable and Venerable Man Known in These Pages as Josiah Traylor, who Saw the Great Procession of Events Between Andrew Jackson and Woodrow Wilson and Especially the Making and the End of Lincoln.

Now, as I have done often sitting in the chimney corner at the day's end, I look back at my youth and manhood and tell, with one eye upon the clock, of those years of fulfillment in the progress of our beloved pilgrim. There are four and twenty of them that I shall try to review in as many minutes. At this distance I see only the high places—one looming above another like steps in a stairway.

The years of building and settlement ended on the fourth of November, 1842, when he and Mary Todd were joined in marriage. Now, like one having taken note of the storm clouds, he strengthened the structure.

Mary tried to teach him fine manners. It was a difficult undertaking. Often, as might have been expected, she lost her patience. Mary was an excellent girl, but rather kindlesome and pragmatic. Like most of the prairie folk, for instance, she had been brought up to be a housewife and to find rest in attitudes extremely indolent and unbecoming. He enjoyed sprawling on the floor in his shirt-sleeves and slippers with a pillow under his head and a book in his hand. He had a liking for ample accommodation not fully satisfied by a bed or a lounge. Mary undertook to turn him into new ways and naturally there was irritation in the house, but I think they got along very well together for all that. Mary grew very fond of him and proud of his great talents and was a devoted wife. For years she did the work of the house and bore him children. He milked the cow and took care of the horse when he was at home.

Anabel and I, having just been married, went with him to Washington on our wedding tour in 1847. He was taking his seat in congress that year. We were with him there when he met Webster. Lincoln was deeply impressed by the quiet dignity of the great man. We went together to hear Emerson lecture. It was a motley audience—business men, fashionable ladies and gentlemen, statesmen, politicians, women with their knitting, and non-buffers. The tall, awkward orator ascended the platform, took off his top-coat and drew a manuscript from his pocket. He had a narrow, sloping forehead, a prominent nose, gray eyes and a skin of singular transparency. His voice was rich and mellow but not strong. Lincoln listened with rapt attention to his talk about democracy. It was a memorable night. He spoke of it often. Such contact with the great spirits of that time, of which he studiously availed himself in Washington, was of great value to the statesman from Illinois. His experiences on the floor were of no way important to him, but since 1914 I have thought often of what he said there, regarding Polk's invasion of Mexico, unauthorized by congress as it was.

"The provision of the constitution giving the war-making power to congress was declared, as I understand it, by the following reasons: kings had always been involving and impoverishing their people in wars, pretending generally that the good of the people was the object. This our convention understood to be the most oppressive of all kingly oppressions and they proposed to so frame the constitution that no man should hold the power of bringing this oppression upon us."

The next year he summoned Massachusetts for "Zach" Taylor and his Governor Seward deliver his remarkable speech on slavery which contained this striking utterance:

"Congress has no power to inhibit any duty commanded by God on Mount Sinai or by His Son on the Mount of Olives."

On his return home Lincoln confessed to me that he had seen to it that that question.

I was in his office when Herndon said:

"I tell you that slavery must be rooted out."

"What makes you think so?" Mr. Lincoln asked.

"I feel it in my bones," was Herndon's answer.

After that he used to speak with respect of "Bill Herndon's bone philosophy."

His term in congress having ended, he came back to the law in partnership with William H. Herndon—a man of character and sound judgment. These days Lincoln wore black trousers, coat and stock, a waistcoat of satin and a Wellington high hat. He was wont to carry his papers in his hat. Mary had wrought a great change in his external appearance.

They used to call him "a dead square lawyer." I remember that once Herndon had drawn up a fictitious plan founded on a shrewd assumption. Lincoln carefully examined the papers.

"Is it founded on fact?" he asked.

"No," Herndon answered.

Lincoln scratched his head thoughtfully and asked:

"Billy, hadn't we better withdraw that plea? You know it's a sham and generally that's another name for a lie. Don't let it go on record. The cursed thing may come staring us in the face long after this suit has been forgotten."

On the whole he was not so communicative as he had been in his young manhood. He suffered days of depression when he said little. Often in good company, he seemed to be thinking of things in no way connected with the talk. Many called him a rather "shut-mouthed man."

I earned my first dollar in baseball when I was fifteen years of age. I was then pitcher on a team from Waltham, Mass., which is close to my home town of Newton, Mass. To this team I owe my start as a professional baseball player. Just how I got a position on the team I don't know, unless it was because I did a good deal to beat them when they played my home town team, of which I was a member.

From that time on I worked hard and long to gain skill. Each year I made it a point to get higher up in my work, and finally, when I was twenty-two years of age—seven years after I had started in professional ball—I became a major league player, which was then, and I think it is now, the ambition of a good many youngsters.

I like baseball and I'm anxious to see it played in as clean a way as it was when it first started. It pays, you know, to be honest in baseball as it does in other things.

Friday, the Thirteenth

(By Dr. William E. Barton)
I was in Paris, and had to cross the English Channel. It was Thursday, the twelfth day of the month. I planned to go next day. In the hotel lobby there were a good many people who also wanted to go to London as early as possible, but few of them were going next day. It was Friday the thirteenth, and they would not risk it.

So we, who sailed, had plenty of room. I have crossed the English Channel a number of times, and seen that body of water in all of its moods, including those that give it its bad reputation, but never have I seen it so galling a mill pond as on that Friday the thirteenth. Never have I made the trip so comfortably as on that day.

The fine weather did not last. The people who feared to risk the boat on Friday encountered a storm on Saturday, and had the discomfort of an overloaded boat, with most of the passengers looking over the side into a very angry sea.

The Last Supper was eaten with thirteen at the table, counting Judas, and because of that fact innumerable foolish people are afraid of the number thirteen. And Loki's banquet with the gods in Valhalla, as told in the Norse legend, ended unhappily for Baldur, the thirteenth. And so for Friday, that was the day of Jesus' crucifixion.

Thirteen is a good and very lucky number in America. Many interesting events have occurred on the thirteenth of the month. A London newspaper of the year 1776, commenting on thirteen as the number of the American colonies, said that thirteen was a peculiarly Yankee number. It affirmed that George Washington had thirteen toes on each foot, the extra ones having grown since the Declaration of Independence; that it took thirteen paper dollars to be worth one in gold; that Mrs. Washington had a tom-cat with thirteen rings around his tail; and that every Yankee family had thirteen children, each one of whom expected to become a general in the colonial army or a member of congress.

But Great Britain in her early days had Thirteen Precious Things. These glorified the romantic period of England's history. They were:

1. Dyrnwyn, the sword of Hael, which became a flame in the hand of any other man.

BEING NO SARDINES THEY BELIEVE THEY NEEDN'T BE PACKED
"We're not sardines; why pack us?" That's one of the slogans boys and girls at Lawrence High School, Lawrence, Kansas, are using in their endeavor to get a new school building. It seems the old building is much too small for the present student enrollment of 850. In the assembly hall there are seats for but 157. "How can the whole bunch of us get into so small a place?" they ask.

It is indeed a problem for our "Daily Hardknut" sharks. In a recent issue of their school paper the Lawrence students devoted a whole page to the discussion of a new building. If their plans are carried through the structure will be called "The Liberty Memorial High School."

TODAY'S GREAT PERSON

May 12—Your Birthday?
Robert C. Winthrop, who was the orator at the laying of the cornerstone of the great Washington Monument on July 4, 1848. Mr. Winthrop was a noted statesman, as well as a good author and an excellent orator. He was born in Boston, Mass., on Friday, May 12, 1809, and died in 1894.

DAILY HARDKNOT
I am a line from the translation of the Iliad, composed of 37 letters. My 3-31-1-20 is a measure. My 22-27-29 is to procure; 34-21-23 is a possessive pronoun; 13-5-16-17-10-7-27 is a garden vegetable; 28-26-25-24 is to converse; 18-14-11-19-2 is a girl's name; 9-8-26 is to have given food to; 35-35-30-4-12 are places where things are sold; 15-6-25 is recompense.

NUTS TO CRACK
Why is an all-day snacker like a race horse?
Yesterday's: "When in a clock on the stairs dangerous?"—When it runs down.

"Ante-Over"
If you like to play a game that makes you move fast and think quickly, then "Ante-Over" was invented just for you.

Divide the players into two groups of equal numbers. A high fence, shed, house or something of the sort, must stand between the two groups. A ball is tossed over the obstruction to the other side. It must be caught and immediately thrown back by the other players. If the ball is allowed to drop to the ground the side that lets it fall loses one point. The first side to lose five points loses the game.

It isn't fair to hold the ball long after it has been caught, nor to throw it an unreasonable distance beyond the players on the other side—just keep it moving fast back and forth, and try to catch the other players by surprise.

To Buy Happiness
"Buy a boy some happiness," was the slogan adopted by a group of Chicago business men when they opened a campaign recently to raise $125,000 to be devoted to the interest of 8,000 Boy Scouts this year. This is one more indication of the great interest the grown-up boys are taking in the younger ones.

MISS LEONA HUSSA CHARMING HOSTESS AT BRIDGE PARTY

ON WEDNESDAY afternoon Miss Leona Hussa entertained at her home, 1435 State street, delightfully a party at bridge. Mrs. Janet Cund and Miss Lyle, a bride of the week, and her bridesmaid, Miss Nan Wier, of Chicago, were honor guests. Five tables were played and the favors were won by Mrs. E. W. Parker, Mrs. Walter Hendrickson and Mrs. Harry Danbeck.

Wardens Back on the Job First of June

MADISON, Wis.—The full force of game wardens will go back on duty June 1 to guard against violations of the protection laws of the state.

Decision of the state emergency board to appropriate $7,000 to the conservation commission from the conservation fund opens the way to reestablishment of the complete game warden force of 60, according to W. E. Barber.

Veto by Governor Blaine of the conservation commission emergency appropriation in March, resulted in the laying off of all but 20 wardens.

The governor in agreeing to the commission of additional funds to the commission allows the reinstatement of the wardens during May and June, while the regular appropriation takes effect July 1.

Appoint of the commission to sportsmen of the state to aid in enforcing the laws on fishing and spring shooting, due to the loss of wardens, resulted in more arrests during April than in any other month, Mr. Barber said.

LITTLE CHANGE IN GREEN BAY STRIKE SITUATION TODAY

Paper Mills Still Closed; Rhinelander Mill Operating on Non-Union Basis

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Green Bay's paper mill strike situation remained unchanged Thursday. Northern Paper Mill officials reported the strikers picketing the mill quietly. The sheriff's office received no report of disorders. The John Hoberg company and the Green Bay Paper and Pulp company mill remained closed.

Charles L. Shay, one of the strikers was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail yesterday, for hurling a brick through the window of a strike-breaker's home.

Rumors that conferences between mill officials and strikers were in progress could not be confirmed today. Both parties concerned were reticent. Other rumors circulated were to the effect that the strike was to be settled this week.

Portuax, political editor of the Echo de Paris, believes that the composition of the new German ministry is sufficient proof that Germany will meet her just obligations only under pressure.

Bavaria Votes To Disarm

BERLIN, May 11.—Immediate steps will be taken by Germany to begin fulfilling the cante's demands. It was declared.

The Bavarian cabinet today voted to support the Berlin government's acceptance of the ultimatum. It was announced at Munich that the Einnahmeverb (national police) would be disbanded at once in accordance with the allies' disarmament demand.

The new cabinet, whose task it is to sign the ultimatum, is of the same political complexion as that which accepted the treaty of Versailles.

Ebert Threat Wins

President Ebert, it was learned today, had threatened to resign unless democrats participated in the new ministry which accepted the ultimatum. It is popularly believed Dr. Wirth really represents Matthias Erzberger, formerly the chief leader of the centum party and formerly minister of finance in the German government.

Chancellor Wirth wishes to direct himself of the post of foreign minister. He has entered into negotiations with Herr von Bergon, the ambassador to the Vatican, in an effort to induce him to accept the peace.

Under the ultimatum terms Germany must pay one billion gold marks, or about $248,000,000 within twenty-five days.

The total bill is $22,750,000,000.

BUDDY'S ENTERTAINMENT AT POST LEGION MEETING PLEASES HOSPITAL NURSES

Were the nurses there? Oh boy! Buddy surely had lots of company and a good time at the May meeting of the local post of the American Legion held in the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night.

In response to the invitations sent out to every nurse in the local hospitals by the American Legion management, over seventy-five care-takers of the sick availed themselves of the opportunity of coming out to meet Buddy and his friends at the soldier-nurse get-together Wednesday night.

And buddy was there, too. He had been informed that some other buddy's sister was going to be at the party and he wanted to meet her. The orchestra played the "introduction" and everyone was acquainted. In some instances buddy displayed a shyness but before the evening was over he became accustomed to the situation and "a good time was had by all."

With several nurses volunteering their services in the kitchen, the party was treated to cookies and that famous army hut chocolate. There was plenty to go around several times, and following the refreshments, Long's Jazz Boys again struck up a tune that just couldn't keep 'em in their seats.

All of the guests were highly complimentary in their remarks of the evening's entertainment. The meeting was perhaps one of the best and most entertaining of any held under the auspices of the local post.

GYPSEY PRINCESS IS BURIED WITH RITES OF THE NOMAD RACE

SHARON, Pa.—The body of Powonia Miller, Gypsy princess, draped in a silk and satin burial robe, Thursday rested on a catafalque in a tent mortuary, awaiting burial late in the afternoon. The funeral services, commencing at dawn, were participated in by Nomads, who pointed toward Pennsylvania on the four trails when news of the princess' death last Tuesday reached them in the north, the east, the south and the west. Among the mourners was the 84-year-old father of Powonia, Louis Mitchell, of Chicago, known as the king of all American Gypsies.

Shortly after daybreak the mourners, seated on the ground in the vicinity of the bier, partook of the solemn funeral breakfast. They were bare-headed and following the tradition, had been neither washed nor shaved for three days.

Oakwood cemetery, Sharon, has been selected as the burial ground.

MILWAUKEE GRAND JURY AGAIN IN SESSION

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Simultaneously with additional arrests on the fifty-nine indictments reported a week ago, the grand jury reconvened Thursday to resume its inquiry into the liquor situation. The jury is expected to be in session almost three weeks.

It was expected that the arrests today would again be confined to Milwaukee and the immediate vicinity. The first arrests of upstaters probably will not be made before Monday, since deputy marshals are serving subpoenas on Milwaukeeans wanted to testify before the jury as well as the warrants.

UNIONS WITHDRAW LETTER ORDERING SLANDER OF LABOR

Cannot Prove Authenticity of Letter Said to Have Been Written by Road Official

CHICAGO, Ill.—Railway labor Thursday formally admitted before the railroad labor board that it had failed in its efforts to prove authenticity of a letter alleged to have been written by a Pennsylvania railroad official ordering "defamation of labor organizations if necessary" in obtaining desired information, and requested permission to withdraw the letter from the board's record.

The admission was made by Frank Walsh, counsel for the railway unions. It came after J. W. Geer, general manager of the Southwestern division of the Pennsylvania railroad, who was alleged to have written the letter, and other persons connected with the road had denied knowledge of it.

The board passed a resolution requesting the employer and authorship of the letter. But Mr. Walsh refused to do, and the board adjourned without taking any action in the case.

Arnold, president of the Madison Bond company, were dismissed by Judge Hoppmann, of the superior court Thursday morning on motion of District Attorney Theodore G. Lewis and both cases were dropped. Buckman, former vice-president of the company, was alleged to have embezzled $1,000 of the company's funds, and Tenney, suspended secretary-treasurer, was accused of having been accessory after the fact.

LABOR COSTS IN 1920 100 PER CENT HIGHER THAN IN 1917, CLAIM

Kruttchnitt Points Out Comparatively Smaller Increase in Gross Receipts of Roads

WASHINGTON.—Labor costs to class one roads were greater by 115 percent in 1920 than they were in 1917, Julius Kruttchnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific declared in a statement submitted Thursday to the senate interstate commerce commission. During the same period he added, gross revenues of the carriers increased less than 54 percent.

Statistics on labor costs were given by the witness, who was cross-questioned after his direct testimony of the past two days, by members of the committee, which is inquiring into the whole railroad question. Since the Adamson law was enacted, he said, "labor costs have been increased by government action by $2,229,639,957."

The total for 1920, he added, was $3,698,216,351.

Silk Made From Flesh

The flesh of horses and cattle which have been condemned or killed by accident has heretofore been of value only for the glue or manure of the fertilizer factory, but these bodies are now worth much more than they were before by reason of the fact that it has been discovered that a silk substitute can be made from this material. The flesh is softened by saturating it in a liquid, which separates the muscle fibres by dissolving the substance that holds them together. Then it is soaked in another liquid, which strengthens the fibre and gives them a silky character. Silk thus obtained can be rubberized and made waterproof by soaking it for some hours in a bath of rubber.

The Earliest Almanacs

The very earliest thing in the shape of an almanac was a long four-sided stick or a long narrow box which was in use both in England and Denmark, to be hung in the parlor or to be used as a cane.

Each corner and side represented three months. The holidays were marked with symbols of the saint on the occasion which they were designated to celebrate. Christmas was indicated with a horn, and November 23 was pictured as a pot of ale because that day was St. Clement's day, on which custom decreed that the poor should be about begging for ale to make merry with.

Lighthouse Going Out of Style

The tendency of shore lines to show marked changes is the principal reason for the gradual supplanting of lighthouses by floating beacons which can be readily moved to suit the conditions. In many instances these permanent beacons once built on the very edge of the water are now so far inland as to be almost useless. Light ships are also better able to weather a severe gale than the lighthouse. The heaviest breakers are estimated to strike with a force equivalent to three and a half tons to the square foot and consequently these towers are likely to be undermined sooner or later.

VICTORY MEDALS AWAIT EX-SERVICE MEN OF THIS CITY

Roy L. Vingers Post Will Aid Local Men in Getting their Medals

The Roy L. Vingers Post of the American Legion has been notified by the Victory Medal office of the U. S. Army that many men in this community have not as yet procured their Victory Medal.

"It is regretted that the ex-service men have not shown much interest in the medals up to this time," said William C. Strell, commander. "It has been found that many ex-service men have been in doubt as to how or where they can procure the medal. The office of the local post at 203 Main street will be very glad to render their services to the men in assisting them to get the victory medal."

"Another appeal is being made for renewed efforts on the part of the Roy L. Vingers Post to give this work greater publicity that every man entitled may obtain his medal, thereby assisting the War Department to complete the distribution in the shortest time possible. It is requested that all the Buddies whether members of the local post or not bring their discharge to the Post Adjutant who will assist them in securing their medal."

"Let's get together on this job and put Wisconsin on the top of the list."

FASHION SHOW IN HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Mothers of School Girls Invited to See Display; Students to Wear Own Creations

On Friday afternoon girls of the high school, under the direction of Miss Olive Cook, Miss Sarah MacQuinn and Mrs. Holley will stage a fashion show in the auditorium. The Mothers' league which meets that afternoon is to witness the display and all mothers of high school girls are urged to be there. The object of this show is to demonstrate proper dressing for school girls as well as the lines, colors and materials which are suitable and becoming to different types of figures. It will be shown that the well-dressed girl is not necessarily the expensively dressed one, that good judgment, the cultivation of taste in dress and care in dressing are more necessary than extravagant expenditures to a girl who would appear well. A humorous little play is to be given which will show the application of the budget system to dressing. All the dresses to be displayed in the fashion show were made by girls in their classes and are to be worn by their makers.

JAPS SLUG WAY TO 17 TO 1 VICTORY OVER PURPLE CREW

CHICAGO, Ill.—Waseda university's team of Japan knocked the ball to all corners of the lot Wednesday and defeated Northwestern, 17 to 1. The Methodists made only two hits, both by Zaizer, who also scored the only run made by his team. The Japanese players made fourteen hits and were aided in their run gathering by the Purple's six errors. Kubota, shortstop for the Japs, made two triples, two singles and was given a walk in six times at bat. Ishii, the diminutive third sacker for the far eastern university, played a spectacular game, as did Takamatsu, the first baseman, who leaped into the air and speared a number of wild throws.

DECISION ON DIETZ PARDON IS EXPECTED BEFORE END OF WEEK

MADISON, Wis.—Definite word on the case of John F. Dietz, whose application for a pardon is now pending before the governor, is expected before the end of the present week. Dietz was convicted ten years ago on Friday. His term of sentence was reduced to twenty years by Governor McGovern, which with the time off for good behavior would make his term expire in August, 1922. Governor Blaine has been going over the entire testimony taken at the Dietz trial and there are many here who believe that a pardon will be granted. Governor Blaine intends to issue a full statement, when the announcement of his decision is made.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail relieves inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

Girls! Win $300.00 For Slogans!

Do you know anything about beautiful eyes? Say it in one line and win the money.

Great catch lines, or slogans, are already leading in, like "Orbitone always means beautiful eyes," "Beautiful brows and lashes in every box of Orbitone," "Orbitone eyes win."

The prize money of $300.00 is offered by the Orbitone Laboratories Company, 1250 North Clark Street, Chicago, for the best advertising slogans on Orbitone. For the best slogan $100.00 in gold will be paid; for the next best, $75.00; for the third best, $50.00. In addition to this, three prizes of $25.00 each will go to others on the general merits of their slogans.

The winning slogans will be adopted for advertising purposes. This contest closes June 30th, 1921. It is open only to the girls and women of the State of Wisconsin.

Slogans should not be over eight words in length, the fewer the better. Each slogan must be written on the inside of the top of an Orbitone carton, the part containing the girl's head. This is necessary so that we may know that you have used Orbitone and can appreciate its merits, thus enabling you to write a really snappy slogan. Merely write the date, the slogan, and your name and address, and send it to the Orbitone Laboratories Company.

You may send in as many slogans as you wish, but each slogan must be written on a separate carton head.

The judges will be the advertising manager of the Orbitone Laboratories Company, and two representatives of the local Advertising Agency of Chicago.

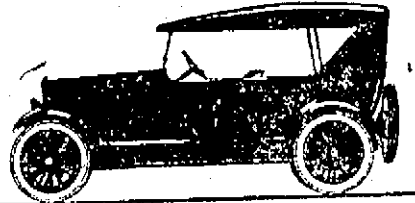

Orbitone is a delicately scented cream which quickly promotes the growth of eye brows and lashes. It is made in three shades: Light, Brown and Dark. The Brown and the Dark instantly darken, as well as promote the growth.

Orbitone is absolutely harmless. It positively will not stiffen or break the lashes; but will promote a really beautiful set of brows and lashes.

CAUTION!—Do not accept substitutes. Accept only the genuine Orbitone. Better safe than sorry. Price 50 cents.

You can also use Orbitone cartons for submitting slogans. Write your slogan on the inside of the front of carton (containing the girl's head). Orbitone is the original Eye Sparkler. A few drops in your eyes will make them sparkle like jewels. Orbitone (pronounced or-lay-on) is absolutely harmless; in fact, there is nothing better for weak, watery, tired, itching eyes. It instantly refreshes and strengthens them. Price 50 cents.

Orbitone and Orbitone are for sale by H. W. Miller Bros., Boerner's Drug Store, Kaufinger's and well-stocked drug stores everywhere. ORBITONE makes beautiful eye brows and lashes.

"THE BRAT" OFFERS MISS SITZER FINE CHARACTER CHANGE

Gives Fine Combination of Tom-Boyishness and Womanly Feeling

Miss Sitzer scored heavily on Wednesday in the opening performance of "The Brat," well known stage success which the Peach-Jones stock company is presenting at the La Crosse theater for the last half of the week. In the title role "the little red-head" appears in a part ideally suited to her plucky gifts, and her characterization is a charming combination of tomboy toughness and womanly feeling.

The story is that of a street-waif picked up by a novelist in a night-gown and introduced into his home to serve as a "type" for him to study and use in a new book. The novelist has a brother, a wastrel sort of a fellow, and a generally squelched and spoiled by his successful brother and mother. "The Brat" with her more human outlook on life, takes hold of him and helps him to recover his better self, to discover when it is almost too late that she has given him her love as well as her help.

Besides the excellent work of Miss Sitzer, the play is featured by strong parts played by Guy Bech, as the novelist, Charles Hummel as a bishop, Milton Woodland as Steve, the brother, and Hazel Baker as Jane Depew.

DE MILLE MAKES ENDS "MEAT" IN PICTURE

First Scene of "Forbidden Fruit" Filmed Proves to Be the Last

Making both ends "meat" as a task which has been the goal of De Mille's experience in the making of "Forbidden Fruit," his new Paramount picture, which comes to the Rivoli theater next week. As originally planned, the story of "Forbidden Fruit" opens with a scene between the principal feminine character and a butcher. The locale is a high-priced butcher shop.

This scene was filmed as number one of the picture. Then came a change in the cast. After some delay, the production work continued with various retakes. In this retake scene, one scene was left for the last.

"That scene was the one which had originally been filmed first, and it was resented in a butcher shop. And it happened that the last was first and the first was last."

However that may be, the studio was had a great time. Such contributions as the following were the order of the day:

"Here's hoping Mr. De Mille makes a 'meat' out of this picture."

"He's hope there won't be any 'meat' necessity."

"He makes no bones about this being a meaty picture."

And so forth and so on.

Agnes Ayres has the leading feminine role. Others in the cast include Clarence Burton, Theodore Roberts, Kathleen Williams, Theodore Kustoff and Forrest Stanley.

ITALIAN PEOPLE FACING FUTURE WITH CONFIDENCE DECLARES THE PREMIER

ROME.—Italy looks into the future with confidence in spite of losses she sustained in the war and the burden her people are carrying at present, Premier Giovanni Giolitti declared to the Associated Press last night. Signor Giolitti's statement, given on the eve of the general elections which will give Italy a new chamber of deputies and lay before the world Italy's expression of national will, was full of optimism.

"The acid test in financial recuperation has been administered to all nations that took part in the world war," he declared. "Their problem was to restore their financial equilibrium from the ruinous depths of expenditures caused by that struggle. Italy faced that problem, stood that test and gave substantial proof of her ability to restore herself from the almost hopeless chaos into which she was plunged. By pure plodding and striving she has reached a point where she can lift her head and look into the future with a sterner faith in her latent resourcefulness."

"Italy is a thickly populated country. It has almost 400 inhabitants to the square mile. There are not sufficient resources in the country to sustain such a virile population as ours, which shows a healthy increase every decade. Given this situation, it is imperative that we find an outlet for our constantly increasing population."

"New American restrictions on immigration have dealt us a severe blow, but we must find other quarters to which we can send our emigrants. Before the war the people leaving Italy for other countries numbered 600,000 each year, of whom 500,000 returned home annually. We plan that in future we will send abroad 600,000 yearly providing we can find a field for their employment. Last year, but 200,000 emigrated, largely due to the lack of transportation."

"We are now on the threshold of the general elections. Mastering all her available forces, Italy faces the future with faith and certainty. Our elections will herald along constitutional lines and that there is within her borders no shelter for revolutionary movements."

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

Two spray rings were formed in the vicinity of Holmen one east and one north of town. Two new power spray outfits have been ordered and should arrive in time for the next spray which should be applied early next week.

Seeds are being sent out for the soybean and sudan grass demonstration plots. The purpose of these demonstrations is to study the different varieties of soybeans for seed, silage and hay purposes.

The mixture of 10 pounds sudan grass and 60 pounds of soybeans to the acre for hay purposes has not been used in this county but has been recommended and should be tried out on a small scale on various types of soil.

We would like to see a large number of our farmers join the 100 bushels per acre corn club.

The two-acre corn yield contest again last year brought out five growers who produced one hundred bushels or more per acre. This makes ten growers in all who are eligible to the 100 bushel corn club. The experiment association will send a certificate of yield to each contestant in the two-acre corn yield contest who produces one hundred bushels or more per acre according to the rules of the contest, and will enroll his name on the list of expert corn growers at the association headquarters at Madison.

La Crosse county should have at least ten farmers in the 100 bushel club, and if we can we would have as many as all the rest of the state.

The two-acre yield contest:

1st—$25.00 cash premium.
2nd—$15.00 cash premium.
3rd—$10.00 cash premium.
4th—$5.00 cash premium.

5th—One bu. purebred seed corn.
6th—One bu. purebred seed corn.
7th—One bu. purebred seed corn.
8th—One bu. purebred seed corn.

Rule 1. Standard varieties of Wisconsin corn must be grown: Silver King (Wis. No. 7), Golden Glow (Wis. No. 12), Early Yellow Dent (Wis. No. 8) and Murdock.

Yellow Dent No. 25, Clark's Yellow Dent.

Rule 2. Entry must be made by June 15th.

Rule 3. The contestant may grow just two acres or may select any two acres in a field to compete in the contest.

Rule 4. The rules for determining the yield will be published later.

Catch crops to replace poor seeding for hay purposes. Field peas and oats makes good hay if harvested at the proper time. Soybeans alone or sowed with sudan grass makes good hay. German millet makes only a fair quality of hay.

W. E. SPRINGER, County Agent.

CHARGES SEA STRIKE IS PART OF PLAN TO RUIN U. S. SHIPPING

President of Seamen's Union Offers to Prove the Charge

WASHINGTON.—Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union declared today that he would prove to congress, if granted a hearing, that the stand taken by the shipping board and the American ship owners in the present wage dispute with marine workers, was a part of an international plot to destroy American shipping.

"I have tried to get an official hearing on this international plot," he said, "and have been shut off. I tried to tell a committee of congress a few days ago and was not permitted to make the statement. I asked the president to hear me and have been informed that the whole matter was referred by the president to Secretary Davis and Hoover."

"I have proofs that the terms which the shipping board told us to sign, without granting us an opportunity to be heard, were agreed upon by the board and the ship owners on April 1, while we were not called in until just before our agreement expired on May 1. A similar proposition was put to the Swedish and Norwegian seamen last winter."

LITTLE GIRLS IN DAINY DANCE BIT WITH RIVOLI PICTURE

A feature of the production of "Midsummer Madness" this week at the Rivoli is the dancing of two little girls, Beverly Carrington and Eloise Clark, in a "Dance of Youth." An airy, lilting piece of music by Kreister the two girls have delighted the audiences attending the big DeMille picture. The dance was directed by Miss Maude Jarvis, who is highly praised by the discerning for her work with the children. An unusual feature of the dance is the entire self-possession of the little girls, neither of whom has ever appeared in public before. The dance is being repeated at each evening performance during the run of the picture, and will be given also at the Saturday matinee.

The Eel's Life Story

The origin and early life of the eel has been a mystery hidden from the investigation of age, but it has been recently revealed by persistent observation. The eel is born in the deep sea and passes about two years of its life in the ocean when it seeks the fresh water, where it spends a portion of its lifetime returning ultimately to the sea to spawn. After this it invariably dies.

Three Machines Operated Without License Plates; Fourth Hadn't Applied for Any

Four more violators of the state automobile license regulations were arrested Wednesday by R. W. Dixon, state automobile license inspector, and arraigned before County Judge Brindley.

The J. Meierman Brewing company was fined $10 and costs for permitting one of its trucks to be operated without both registration tags attached. Dixon found them in the garage.

Albert L. Spangler was charged with operating a passenger car with a card on it reading "License Applied For," when in reality he had not applied for license tags at all, according to Dixon. He also was fined $10 and costs.

N. J. Hengel operated his car with only one license plate. He had neglected to attach the other one. The oversight cost him $10 and costs.

Henry Hovind was fined a similar amount for driving a car without license plates. According to Dixon, Hovind said he had intended disposing of the car and didn't want to take out license tags for 50 cents one can get an automobile registration of an old car transferred to a new car and that after the 50 cents has been sent to the secretary of state the car owner or driver may operate the car until he gets notice of the transfer as long as he has a receipt to show that he has applied for the transfer.

BRITISH SHIPYARDS CLOSE BECAUSE OF SHORTAGE OF COAL

Close to Two Million Idle as Result of Strike is Report

LONDON.—Indications of the seriousness of the coal shortage caused by the miners' strike in progress since April 1, is furnished by announcement that the Vickers shipbuilding and engineering works at Barrow, employing 150,000 men, will close entirely at the end of next week unless coal mining is resumed. The iron and steel works already are shut down.

The total of unemployed on the register of the labor exchanges at the end of April totalled 1,865,900 with the number working on short time totaling 1,077,000. These figures are exclusive of 1,200,000 idle miners.

It is estimated each day of the stoppage of coal mining adds 15,000 people to the unemployed list.

Nearly 4,000 Fifty Dollar Seats Already Reserved For Battle On July 2nd At Jersey City Arena

NEW YORK—Although the opening of the public sale of seats for the Dempsey-Carpentier championship contest in Jersey City on July 2, will not begin for several days, the advance reservations assure a record breaking attendance.

Official diagrams of the arena indicate that the amphitheater will seat 30,000 or more spectators. The present plans provide for thirty-five rows of 50 seats and more than one hundred mezzanine boxes which, it is understood, will be occupied principally by women. Jack of these boxes are to be erected four rows or 40 seats and a similar number of 35 rows. These in turn are followed by thirty rows of 25 seats, three rows of 20, twenty-one rows of 15, twenty-five rows of 10 and eleven rows of 5, 30 seats. ## WHY SEE FIGHT? GREB TELLS HOW IT'S GONNA END

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Harry Greb, prominent light heavyweight, thinks Jack Dempsey will K. O. Georges Carpentier on July 2. He says: "Carpentier is by far the best opponent the champion has ever met, but he does not impress me as being sturdy enough to withstand the rushes of Dempsey. I have seen the Frenchman in action and have worked with Dempsey. The champion should topple the Frenchman within three rounds. Carpentier's only chance is to score a one punch knockout in the first two seconds. A body crusher and a lightning left to the jaw will finish Carpentier."

BADGER-ILLINOIS PLAY SECOND TILT NEXT SATURDAY

Coach Lowman Priming Squad to Meet Last Year's Champions at Camp Randall

MEADISON, Wis.—Two heavy hitting teams will meet at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon, when the universities of Illinois and Wisconsin play the second game of the 1921 conference baseball season to be held at Camp Randall.

Illinois boasts of four of the best pitchers in the Big Ten, Barnes, Johnson, McCann and Banks. Wisconsin balances things on the mound with Padlock, Bill Williams, Al Miller and Hoffman.

Coach Lowman is priming his squad to meet the champions of last year's daily scrimmages against the freshman line.

The Illini are recognized as sluggers, but Lowman has a well balanced squad, active on the bases and handy with a bat. In the Purdue game last Saturday, six men hit safe, Farrington, Elliott and Henderson being twice against Lefty Wagner, who the visitors got but one hit off Padlock and two off Williams.

CHICAGO.—The University of Illinois defeated the University of Chicago 10 to 1 at western conference baseball.

The NEW LIGHT-SIX now holds the five most important automobile road records on the Pacific Coast, a remarkable feature being that all the honors were won by the same car, a stock touring car, within ten weeks

1. Yosemite National Park. A Studebaker LIGHT-SIX, piloted by Hart L. Weaver and carrying a crew of five men from the Chester N. Weaver Company, was the first automobile to reach the Yosemite National Park over any one of the three snow covered roads under its own power this year. The car went over the narrow and dangerous Coulterville road, bucking snow as deep as ten feet in some places, arriving in Yosemite Valley, January 16.
2. Round Trip Record Between San Francisco and Los Angeles. On February 2 the same car, driven by Hart L. Weaver and James F. Gurley of the Chester N. Weaver Company, established a new round trip record between San Francisco and Los Angeles, a distance of 864.8 miles, in the sensational time of 21 hours and 23 minutes.
3. Coast Route Record from San Francisco to Los Angeles. On the round trip record of February 2 the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX lowered the coast route record from San Francisco to Los Angeles by 2 hours, 35 minutes and 20 seconds. The former record was 12 hours, 47 minutes and 50 seconds, the time of the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX being 10 hours, 12 minutes and 30 seconds for the distance of 453.7 miles. The pilots were Hart L. Weaver and James F. Gurley.
4. Valley Route Record Between Los Angeles and San Francisco. On February 24 the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX smashed the valley route record between Los Angeles and San Francisco, running the distance of 411.1 miles in the remarkable time of 9 hours, 15 minutes and 50 seconds. This record was made all the more remarkable on account of the car having to go through a dense fog a distance of more than 100 miles between Tulare and Merced. The pilots were Hart L. Weaver and James F. Gurley.
5. Los Angeles—Phoenix Record. On the morning of March 23 the LIGHT-SIX left Los Angeles in an attempt to lower the fifth and only remaining record of consequence on the Pacific Coast. The 422 miles of desert trail from Los Angeles to Phoenix were made in 13 hours 16 minutes, and 2 hours 28 minutes were taken from the best previous automobile record. The railroad time is 14 hours 20 minutes, or 1 hour 4 minutes slower than the record established by the LIGHT-SIX.

Hart L. Weaver of the Chester N. Weaver Company, Studebaker Distributors in San Francisco, made the following statement after the completion of the Los Angeles-Phoenix run:

"These tests have demonstrated on the road everything that Studebaker engineers have claimed for the new LIGHT-SIX-cylinder car. When it is remembered that the bore and stroke of this car is only 3 1/4 x 4 1/4, giving it a piston displacement of 207 cubic inches, and that the car fully equipped only weighs 2500 pounds, these records are all the more remarkable since most of them were formerly held by heavier cars costing much more than the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX. I am inclined to believe that the secret of this car's wonderful performance, and roadability is due in a very large measure to its remarkable balance. Halved or quartered the parts of the new LIGHT-SIX would weigh approximately the same.

"In making the Los Angeles-Phoenix record I am frank to confess that despite my faith in the stamina of Studebaker automobiles I could not believe that any car could make the speed over that desert road with its ruts and chuck holes that was necessary in order to lower the record by a large margin without falling to pieces. Any automobile, irrespective of weight, power or price class that can lower the record established by the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX will have my most sincere admiration."

SALE OF TAGS FOR SCHOOLS' PAGEANT WILL OPEN TODAY

Children to Canvass Their Districts; 10c Will Buy Admission Ticket

$800 NEEDED TO FINANCE BIG PUBLIC UNDERTAKING

Teachers Will be in Charge of Ticket Sale; to Report Monday

The tag sale for the big schools' pageant, "The Growth of Freedom," to be given Friday, May 20, opens late today. Ten cents will buy a tag which will admit to the pageant and which may be obtained from children who will canvass their districts. Each public school in the city has been assigned its quota and will report on Monday its success. It is necessary to raise $800 to finance this undertaking, the biggest, most artistic and most worthwhile thing of its sort ever put on in La Crosse and it is hoped and believed that there is hardly a person in the entire community who will not express his interest through the purchase of a tag.

No professional organization would attempt to put on a performance of this scope at such a price but the object of this pageant is to interest this community. It is the desire of those in charge to have every citizen attend and to secure the popular support both to meet the considerable expense and as a sign of the unified interest of the community. The finance committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. C. Thompson is composed of Mrs. C. Luck, Mrs. D. Evans, Mrs. Harry Dünker, Miss Charlotte Kahn, Mrs. May, Mrs. Affande and Mr. A. D. Tubbert.

A teacher from each of the schools is in charge of the sale to be conducted by the children through the district. They are Miss Shung of the Washington, Mrs. Annandson of the Washburn, Miss Bertha Shuman of the Lincoln, Miss McConville of the Hamilton, Miss Gallagher of the Webster, Miss Agnes Hayes of the high school, Miss Gillespie of the Franklin, Mr. Hayden of the Logan, Mr. Spence of the Jefferson and Miss Hill of the North branch. The tags were tied and prepared for distribution by the Twentieth Century club, the Woman's club, the D. A. R., the Carnation club and the board of directors of the community council.

BIRTHDAY OF NURSE PIONEER OBSERVED AS "HOSPITAL DAY"

WASHINGTON. — The birthday of Florence Nightingale, pioneer in modern nursing, was celebrated Thursday for the first time as a "national hospital day" in nearly 8,000 hospitals throughout the United States. The public health service issued instructions that every institution under its supervision, "keep open house" and explain to visitors the work of an up-to-date "health factory." Those who cannot visit their disabled soldier relatives or friends in these hospitals might "say it with flowers or smokes" the service bulletin suggested.

In the ruins of the palace at Tyrus (which antedated Troy) has been found a much-damaged bathtub of terra-cotta, which had a plug in the bottom, to be removed after use, in order that the water might escape through a hole in the floor. In the middle ages bathing seems to have gone out of fashion to a great extent. The bathtub as we know it is a development of the last generation.
